With the former Mayor pro tem Robert Thompson having resigned on October 7 from the council, the duty to run the meeting fell on East Tawakoni City Secretary Heather McClaskey.

After discussions of options, the council unanimously approved to repair one aerator pump and authorize the repair of another pump, if the price was kept under $40,000. The water department head was authorized to have the old sludge hauled off and make repairs to the lift stations on Garrett Ave. and Briggs Blvd.

To help with the cost of repairs to the wastewater system, council members unanimously approved the motion to cash in a certified deposit that was set to mature in November and transfer the money into capital improvements fund.

The council heard from the head of the session to select a new mayor pro tem for water department concerning repairs the city. After about 16 minutes, the coun-

Genevieve Golden has 20 years experience in real estate

SPOTLIGHT

Genevieve Golden was born and raised in Las Vegas, Nevada, and moved to Rains County in 1999. She has been in real estate for 20 years, the past four years as a broker.

"I previously worked at a large company and was responsible for 160 agents," said Golden. "I bought my own building at 126 N. Planters Street, as a place to have classes for my agents. But, when I tired of the company politics, I decided to work on my own, and now have three agents working for me. I have extra office space in the building and have rented it to the Rains County Leader newspaper. I have been the number one broker in sales in Rains County consistently, and use a lot of internet marketing as opposed to other methods.'

Golden and her husband, Jeff Stout, met on Match.com and have been together for 13 years. He has spent almost 40 years in residential design, and he was a pitcher on a U.S. national fast pitch softball team that traveled all over the world to play." They live on 150 acres of land and once had horses and cows, which have since been sold. Her parents, Ben and Carole Depue lived on a small portion of the property and owned BC Sand and Gravel. They have since passed away. Ben was originally from Ohio, and Carole was a native of Pennsylvania. Golden said that she and her mom, who was a stunt pilot, used to fly in air races, and her mom set several world records. Her mom also taught Golden's dad to fly and put her (as a young child) in a car seat in the luggage compartment of her Cessna while she gave flying lessons.

"My children are Robert and Benjamin who graduated from Rains High School," said Golden. "Jeff has two daughters - Savannah and Chloe who graduated in Frisco. Robert is the oldest and works at L3. Savannah is a teacher who educates and mentors teachers. Chloe has a degree in theater and is working on a degree in teaching. Benjamin was in the U.S. Air Force and is now working in cyber security." Golden and her husband have five grandchildren ranging in age from 12 to 1 year.

Why? For one thing, your children will have more time to pay back college loans than you have to save for retirement. Also, by building enough resources to become self-sufficient in retirement, you'll be less likely ever to need financial help from your grown children.

RAINS COUNTY Sales tax returns remain down for county, cities

By CHUCK FITTS Rains County Leader staff

The revenue from the sale of taxable goods in Rains County continues to decline for the county and cities as compared to 2023 as the rest of the State of Texas saw a decrease of 1.2 percent in allocations being returned to local taxing entities in October.

The allocations are part of the $1.1 billion in local sales allocations being tax returned to cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts by the office of Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar from sales made in August by businesses that report tax monthly. Rains County, with its half-cent additional tax on taxable sales, sees $74,993.30 being returned to the county, which is 12.14percent worse than October of 2023. The county's Yearto-Date (YTD) increases to $811,662.58 but remains 1.43-percent behind this time last year.

All municipalities in the county, which add an additional cent and a half tax to all taxable items sold, saw allocations decreases in being returned as compared to October of 2023, with seeing the steepest decline.

The City of Point saw the largest decrease of the local cities from last year at 41.25 percent. The $8,588.76 being returned in October increased the YTD payments to $110,437.23, but the total remains 22.1-percent lower than October of 2023.

Emory is expected to receive $150,757.45 from the state in October, which is 6.03-percent below the total from 2023. The YTD total is 5.5-percent behind this time last year at $1,489,425.84.

With $6,146.21 being returned to the city in October, East Tawakoni's YTD payments remain behind last year's totals at $81,400.87. The YTD is 1.72-percent lower than last year with the allocation for October being 9.02-percent less than 2023.

Next month, the allocations to be returned to the local taxing entities from sales made during the month of September by businesses that report tax monthly, and sales made in July, August and September by quarterly filers should be announced during the second week in November.

The semi-annual Highway 80 Garage Sale took place this past weekend, and I spent several hours on Friday and who generously shared their booth with me. The weather was beautiful, though a little cool in the early part of the day, and we had a great time visiting, monitoring each other's merchandise when one of us needed a break, and especially people watching. Here are a few of the more notable people we saw.

One family who came by had two boys, one probably around nine years old and another maybe four or five. The younger boy turned to his dad and held out his arms to be picked up. The man shook his head slightly and took the child by the hand. The little boy didn't argue, but you could see the disappointment in his face. I commented to Linda that it's hard when you get too big to be carried and are expected to walk on your own. I know a lot of adults who feel that way. There are days when I'd like to be carried through my responsibilities instead of having to be an actual grown-up.

Linda and Rocky had one table that was covered with a wide selection of CDs, DVDs, and Blu Rays. A mother and her teenaged daughter spent quite a while looking through all the movies, and when they finished, each had chosen two. The mother held her hand out to the daughter and said, "Let me see what you picked out." Without comment, the girl handed over her choices. The woman looked at the first one and nodded. "PG-13. Okay," but the second one didn't fare as well. "R. Nope. Put it back." She handed the offending disc to the girl who Balladeer. obediently put it back. It was encouraging to see a SO mother and daughter seemingly enjoying each other's company. It was even more encouraging to see a mother that took responsibility for what her child was exposed to and a child who respected her mother's authority without arguing, whining or even rolling her eyes. A third event of note happened at a table full of kitchen items. The Pietilas have an impressive stock of Tupperware – with lids and everything. While a wife checked out other things, husband browsed her through the Tupperware. He excitedly held up a green container and called out to his wife.

Man: Look! It's got a rack and everything!

Wife: That's a celery container. You hate celery. Man: I know. But it's such cool container! In addition to people watching, I enjoyed talking with people who came by my book table. I complimented one woman on her beautiful gray hair, and when we discovered we used the same brand of hairspray, we commiserated on how difficult it is to find it in Walmart lately. Another woman was asking about my research methods for my child trafficking novels, and I learned that she is the 911 dispatcher and her husband is a K-9 officer for a nearby town. She was very familiar with the local trafficking problems. The most interesting discussion, though, was with Elvis Allen, Chairman of the Van Zandt County Historical Commission.

Mr. Allen asked me some questions about things with which I'm not very familiar, like whether Rains County has a historical commission. I was also unable to tell him what was happening with the Rains County Genealogical Society since the Northeast Texas Child Advocacy Center took over the building formerly occupied. they What really captured my attention was when he told me about Leon Roger Payne, also known as the Blind

Payne was an American country music singer and songwriter who was born on June 15, 1917 in Alba. He was blind in one eye at birth and the other eye was blinded in an unexplained childhood accident. He went to the Texas School for the Blind in Austin where he met Myrtie, his future wife and the mother of his two children.

Payne, who played several musical instruments, began his professional music career in the mid-1930s. He started writing songs shortly thereafter and continued for the rest of his life. He performed with several well-known musical groups including Bob Wills' Texas Playboys, and at one point he formed his own group called the Lone Star Buddies. He performed regularly on shows like the Louisiana Hayride and the Grand Ole Opry, and he wrote hundreds of country songs. In addition to the songs he recorded himself, many were recorded and covered by such famous artists as Hank Williams, Elvis Presley and Johnny Cash. One of his most well-known songs was I Love You Because, and his recording of it hit the top spot on the Billboard country chart. Payne died in 1969 and is buried in San Antonio.

I thoroughly enjoyed my time at the Highway 80 Garage Sale. I saw some interesting people and learned some fun local history, but after two days of talking about my books with the wind blowing east Texas pollen in my face, I lost my voice almost completely. It's a good thing I can type my own columns instead of having to dictate them.

To Carve a Pumpkin -Jack-o'-Lantern History

store fronts. Large bins of them are found in every supermarket. In some parts of the country, you see them afield, warm and orange in the sun. As Halloween nears, many are cut and turned to Jack-o'-Lanterns. Their cheerful and ghoulish faces remind us of childhood fun and memories past. Jack-o'-

Lanterns are a part of our Halloween history. Modern traditions of Halloween, including our fascination with carving pumpkins and creating Jacko'-Lanterns, can be traced back to the Celtic holiday called Samhain. Samhain was celebrated in Ireland and throughout Europe every October 31 – November 1. It marked the end of summer and the final harvest of the year. The pagan holiday was believed to usher in a period of supernatural intensity, darkness, and decay. To combat evil spirits that might be rampaging through the countryside during this season, ancient Celts would start large bonfires. Fire was believed to ward off evil spirits.

After Christianity took root in the Middle Ages,

Golden and her husband love to fly and to travel, and she usually works while they are on the move. She said that on their last trip she sold six houses. They travel in their Prevost Class A motor home. Recently they have been to Jackson Hole, Wyoming and Santa Fe, New Mexico. They usually take one long trip a year and short trips in between. They both like to golf and fish at Lake Tawakoni or on the ponds on their ranch. One of their favorite pastimes is fly fishing up north.

Happy Halloween! author,

Samhain became All Hallows Eve. Later, raging bonfires were downsized and placed inside vegetables - turnips, potatoes, and gourds. First just cut to emit light, carving became more ornate and common over time. Scary faces were carved to scare off other scary things. All Hallows Eve was imported to North America, carried by immigrants, especially the Irish who flocked here in the mid-19th century during Ireland's potato famine. With turnips scarce in the New World, pumpkins became a better option. Carved pumpkins and the Jack-o'-Lanterns that we know today are linked to the old Irish myth of Stingy Jack.

According to this legend, Stingy Jack was an Irish blacksmith of questionable character who tricked the Devil to save his soul from hell. After his death, the story goes that God denied Stingy Jack entrance into heaven based on his unsavory behavior. There is some incorrect theology here (perhaps they never read Galatians). In any case, barred from heaven, and denied entrance to hell, Stingy Jack was forced to walk the Earth with only a burning coal to light his way. Jack put the coal in a carved-out turnip and is said to have roamed the Earth ever since. The Irish began referring to him as Jack of the Lantern, and then simply Jack-o'-Lantern.

To celebrate Halloween, and in honor of Stingy Jack, you might want to carve a pumpkin or two this year. If you decide to do so, here are some tips:

1 – Ĉhoose a good pumpkin. You want one that is

Lake Tawakoni taken on will get better and better as the main lake ledges and humps, and start looking for bigger fish west of the islands and north of the railroad bridge, in 40-50 feet of water on deep flats. Bass fishing remains slow, however, as water temperatures cool, bass are moving up. Plastics are effective early in 3-8 feet of water off main lake points, and later in the backs of coves during midday as the water warms and shad move up. Striped bass bite is starting to improve with some topwater activity in shallow water in the morning. Blind cast into the shallows. Some days there is some bird action, as the weather cools this will pick up. When the topwater bite ends cast swimbaits into the shallows for box fish, then switch to slabs later in the morning.

2 – When carving out your lid, cut on an angle so that when you put the top back on it won't drop inside. 3 – Use a large metal spoon or ice cream scoop to scrape the inside. Make sides nice and thin so pumpkin is easier to carve.

4 - Use a sharp knife or toothpick to outline your design before cutting. If you are carving a fancy design, draw on paper first and use toothpicks to hold the pattern in place.

5 – Ĥold pumpkin in your lap when carving. It will be easier to carve a face when it is looking up at you. Small sharp kitchen knives work best for carving. And be careful (first aid tip for bad bleeding cuts - keep jar of cayenne pepper handy - sprinkle liberally on wound and press to stop bleeding).

6 – Seal your pumpkin with petroleum jelly to make it last. Spread on all cut edges and open flesh. This will keep your Jack-o'-Lantern from decaying quickly.

7- Place candle(s) in pumpkin before lighting - be careful with fire. Better to use Christmas lights or battery operated votives.

Jack-o'-Enjoy your Lantern.

The crappie fishing on Lake Fork is improving as the water temperature drop into the 70s. You can find fish all over the lake and any type of structure between 12-58 feet. We are seeing some fish on brush piles, laydowns, bridges and road beds. The best fish are definitely on timber. Focus on the edge of timber and creek channels mostly. We will see more fish hitting deeper timber as the water temps drop to the 60's and 50's over the next few months. Minnows are still a we head deeper into fall and winter. Catfishing continues to be incredible on Lake Fork. We are seeing lots of catfish around timber in depths from 18-58 feet as they follow bait fish using smelly prepared catfish bait. You can also draw even more fish in with some chum, cattle cubes or sour grains.

Tawakoni: Good. Water stained; 75 degrees; 1.87 feet below pool. Striper fishing is great on live shad in 20-45 feet of water in ditches and along the river ledges. Look for fish to move up shallow with the cold weather. Swim baits and topwaters work well in the backs of coves and creeks during early morning and late evening. the town and brought him to the brow of the hill on which their town was built, so that they could throw him down the cliff.

Luke 4:29 Pastor Jason Rolen continued "The Incomparable Christ" series. His message from Luke was called "The Danger of Just as I Am, Part 2." Jesus was preaching from the prophet Isaiah in the synagogue in His hometown of Nazareth. At first the people were amazed at His words, but when they realized that He was saying He was the prophesied Messiah and that if they rejected Him, His message would go to the Gentiles, they became angry and tried to kill Him. But

He was in total control and walked away And they rose up and drove him out of unharmed. We, too, become angry when we realize that we are not in control of our own destiny, but it is urgent that we accept that reality, come to Jesus, and be saved.

After the service, we enjoyed the 12th Annual BBC Chili Cookoff. Gennifer Morrow won the People's Choice Award, and Sundy Garland won the Judge's Choice.

Sunday evening we had a hymn sing and testimonies by Tom Schultz and Lane Garland.

Next Sunday we will celebrate The Lord's Supper during Morning Worship, and the quarterly Members' Meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m.

John 6:35 Thursday evening (our mid-week service, this week only) was absolutely wonderful. Eli Nelson and his singing group, The Kings Highway, blessed our hearts immensely. Bro. Matthew Ramsey, who was also a member of the group, preached a very interesting message titled, "Saved and Satisfied" from Romans. A very different perspective than what you might think. We had another great service on Sunday morning! Following our congregational singing, the young children blessed our hearts by singing a very wonderful song. Then Sharon Grills sang a touching song would you be ready to meet Him?

before Bro. Andrew's message entitled, "The Day After the Miracle when 5000 were Fed." What was the motive when those that were fed, started seeking Jesus the next day? And what is our motive today? It was very challenging message! Another precious soul was saved during the invitation. And to top off an already great service, two ladies were baptized. God is so good!

We will have Bro. Nathan Johnson, missionary to Denmark, as our guest preacher Sunday. Come join us as we learn more about this mission.

Birthday wishes go to James L. Kilborn and James Smith.

Over the weekend, EBC's Senior Adult Ministry went to Eureka Springs. The EBC Senior Adult Ministry is active in providing opportunities for fun, fellowship, and ministry.

On Sunday morning, the service began with the observation of baptism. Bro. Richard Piles took a break from the sermon series on the book of Luke to preach a sermon titled, "Behind the Eight Ball: How Should Christians Vote in 2024." In it, Bro. Richard shared how the party platforms line up with the Southern Baptist Convention's statements of faith. In the evening, Emory Baptist held the October members' meeting. Afterward, T.E.L. hosted a Spaghetti Social and New Member Fellowship to celebrate the new members who have joined the church recently. We appreciate Billy Madden supplying the delicious spaghetti supper 9:00 a.m. and the T.E.L. ladies for the abundant spread of desserts for the fellowship.

Intentional Christian Grandparents met on October 21 in the fellowship hall. On Wednesday, October 23, Backpack Buddies packed food bags for Rains ISD children. On Thursday, the Senior Adult Ministry game day will be held in the fellowship hall at noon. Bring a dish to share at the potluck meal and stay for games around the tables. Come join the fun.

Looking ahead to next week, Emory Baptist Church will host a Fall Festival on Wednesday, October 30, from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the church parking lot. There will be free games, candy, and an inflatable obstacle course. There will also be free hot dogs and refreshments available. A funeral service for Herman A. "Boots" McLeroy, 97, was held on October 19, 2024, at Wilson-Orwosky Chapel in Emory. Interment followed at Emory City Cemetery.

Mr. McLeroy died peacefully on October 16, 2024. He was born on July 23, 1927, to S.T. and Emma (Houston) McLeroy in Emory. He graduated from Emory High School and was drafted into the Army in 1948. He married Patsy (Plunk) McLeroy on July 1, 1951. They spent 64 beautiful years building a life together and had two daughters.

Mr. McLeroy was known for always being there when his family needed him, rolling up his sleeves and showing up within minutes to assist with any car trouble or challenge they faced. He had a knack for bringing humor to everyday life. He was always ready with a joke or a playful comment, frequently sharing his favorite phrases, "whatever floats your boat" or "if you're ever down at the lake drop in." His playful nature was especially evident during family gatherings, where he was known to steal rolls off his sister-in-law's

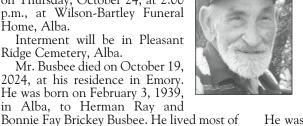

After his discharge from the Army, he worked for National Linen Service in Dallas. Retiring from there, he then went to work for Highland Park ISD.

Mr. McLeroy is survived by his daughter, Donna McLeroy; grandsons, Tony McLeroy and wife Stephanie Elaine, and Grant DeJong; great-granddaughters, Madeline McLeroy and Evie McLeroy; son-in-law, Ron DeJong; sister-in-law, Flo Hines; brothers-in-law, Sonny Plunk, and Sammy Plunk and wife Terry; and numerous nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Patsy (Plunk) McLeroy; daughter, Sandra DeJong; great-grandson, Colt Justus McLeroy; brothers, Shod Thomas McLeroy, Jr., Thomas Edman McLeroy and Jack McLeroy; sisters, Lois Kerr and Myrtis Byram; brothers-in-law, Bobby Plunk, George Plunk and Junior Hines; and sisters-in-law, Dianna Plunk, Joyce Plunk and Rosella Plunk

After juking one Raider to the ground, Wildcat Tylin Oakes (3) looks to do the same to another during the 70-14 loss to Winnsboro on Friday night, October 18.

By CHUCK FITTS Rains County Leader staff

The Rains Wildcat football team saw their winning streak come to an end on the road against the state ranked Winnsboro Red Raiders, 70-14, on Friday night, October 18.

The Wildcat offense was held to 273 yard, while the #10 Red Raiders amassed 564 yards, including five one-play drives of over 40 yards each.

Senior Tylin Oakes returned to the offensive side of the ball and gained 119 yards on ten carries including an 80-yard touchdown run. Sophomore Jabari Shields had 16 carries for 99 yards and a 29-yard touchdown run.

Shields and Oakes split time at quarterback, with Oakes completing three passes for 41 yards. Shields completed one pass for 12 yards, but threw an interception late in the first half.

ught a 26-yard pass, while senior Trent Kirby hauled in Rains 7, Winnsboro 28. a 12-yard catch for a first down. On the defensive side of the ball, Oakes led the Wildcats with 10 tackles, while Corbin notched six tackles. the ball at their own 47-yard line and moved the ball 41 yards in six plays. A touchdown toss into the corner of the end zone capped the drive. Rains 0, Winnsboro 7. The Wildcats came out fighting as they came up with big plays on two fourth-down plays. They got an offside penalty on the punt for a first and Shields connected with Kirby for 12 yards and another first down on fourth.

ball over on downs. Winnsboro took no time to strike as they scored a 67-yard touchdown pass on their next play. Rains 0, Winnsboro 14.

After Rains experienced a three-and-out, the Raiders put up a 57-yard touchdown pass on the first play after the punt. Rains 0, Winnsboro 21

The Wildcat offense moved the ball 15 yards in seven plays, but were forced to punt to Winnsboro.

A couple of big plays by the defense forced a fourth down. The Raiders tried a field goal, but it sailed wide to turn the ball over.

Rains used the momentum that the defense gave them and moved the ball 51 yards in 10 plays to get to the Raider 29 yard line. Shields took the handoff, found a hole on the left side, and sped 29 yards to the end zone. Rains 7, Winnsboro 21.

Winnsboro answered as yards on the ensuing drive, they drove the ball 60 yards but had to punt for the first Senior Luke Corbin in eight plays to score on a time that night. 9-vard touchdown pass. The Wildcats fumbled the ball during the kickoff return, so the Raiders scored on a 54-yard touchdown pass. Rains 7, Winnsboro 35. Winnsboro decided to rub it in, as they onside kicked Winnsboro started with the ball and recovered it at the Wildcat 32-yard line. In one play, they scored on a touchdown run. Rains 7, Winnsboro 42. Rains started to move the ball again, but a fumbled snap turned the ball over to Winnsboro. With the short field, the Raider offense needed four plays to go 27 yards for another score. Rains 7, Winnsboro 49. The Wildcats gained 27 yards in seven plays, but were forced to punt again. The fourth down try to turn the punt was partially blocked and gave Winnsboro another short field. They took advantage with a 40-yard touchdown run on the next play. Rains 7, Winnsboro 56.

Shields threw an interception on the first play of the next drive, but the Rains defense held the Raiders until halftime.

The Wildcats started with the ball after halftime, but the first run was stopped for a negative yard. On the second play, Oakes faked the handoff to Shields, got around the end on the right side, and outran everyone for an 80-yard touchdown run. Rains 14, Winnsboro 56.

On the kickoff, Rains struck again, as they stripped the ball from the Raider and recovered the loose ball.

The offense got a first down on the first play, but four incompletions turned the ball over on downs to Winnsboro.

Their luck ran out as Shields was sacked on a third

The Rains offense was held to another three-and-out. The Raiders put together a 10-play drive, but on the three-yard line, Corbin stripped the ball from the running back to prevent the score.

Unfortunately, the Wildcats would lose the ball on a fumble on their second play. The defense stepped up and held the Winnsboro offense to negative yards.

Rains got the ball back after the Raider field goal attempt sailed wide, again. They were forced into a three-and-out and punted.

Winnsboro moved the ball 41 yards in six plays and finished the scoring for the game with a five-yard touchdown run. Rains 14, Winnsboro 70.

The Wildcat last possession was another three-andout with a punt, and the Raiders ran out the clock.

The Rains Wildcats fall 2-1 in District 7-3A-1 and are 2-5 for the season.

They will host the #2ranked Malakoff Tigers at Wildcat Stadium on Friday night, October 25, with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.
